

Each pixel statistic fails at the OPPOSITE end of the footprint bottom edge is biased looking down; box centre is biased looking flat

Same clear detections through both statistics, so this is paired. Elevation is computed from the 6.1 m mount height. Neither curve is fitted -- each point is the mean along-bearing bias in a 2 m range bin. The crossing near 40 deg is why a single fixed-plane statistic cannot be unbiased across a whole footprint.