

A camera with a real +78 mm lateral bias: what each filter does about it

Is the stated uncertainty honest? above the line = overconfident

Unearned confidence (this is what drives into shelves)

Honest, not just vague stated should $\approx$ actual, and both small

