

Extrapolation risk: the deployed constants are applied far outside their fitted support

Camera A's calibration is extrapolated over 92% of its field of view (fitted on just 11.2-12.2 m)

Every camera is used well outside the range band its constants were fitted on

