

How much data before the gate can be trusted — the scaling question for a large network

